OMG RhinoBond Attachment System

Technology is changing the way we live our lives, as well as, the way we install roofs! There are multiple ways to attach a new TPO or PVC roof to a building. With new technology, companies are developing more efficient ways to install these roofs. The OMG Rhinobond system is an example of one of these technologies.

What is it?

RhinoBond is an electromagnetic induction welding system used to install TPO and PVC roofs. RhinoBond utilizes a fastener and plate to attach the roof membrane to the cover board and roof deck, without any puncture holes. Click here to see how a roof is installed using the RhinoBond system.

Why use RhinoBond?

- Faster installation
- No puncture holes from penetrations
- Higher wind resistance
- Environmentally friendly
- Attaches to multiple surfaces

RhinoBond at Rayco

Rayco worked directly with GAF to install the first TPO roof in Minnesota, using the RhinoBond system. A willingness to learn new technologies helps Rayco move toward the future and grow into an industry leader in utilizing the RhinoBond technology. Ask Us About a 30 Year Warranty

The roof warranty is an important factor when it comes to choosing a roof. Companies and manufacturers offer warranties of different length and coverage, so it is important to know your options. A manufacturer's warranty typically range from 10 to 30 years, depending on the company and products being installed.

How Does This Help the Building Owner?

Being a GAF Master Select commercial roofing contractor, which only 1% of contractors in the U.S.A have earned, gives Rayco the ability to offer GAF's 30 year ND (No dollar Limit) warranty on certain flat roofs. The 30 year warranty has advantages over the typical GAF 20 year ND. It will cost more to the building owner up front, but over the course of time it will save you money on any repairs or work needed and just knowing that the roof is covered will ease some stress off the building owner. If there is ever a warranty issue with the roof, Rayco will have someone on the roof to make the necessary repairs. So, next time you are installing a new roof ask us about a 30 year warranty.

20 Year Warranty vs 30 Year Warranty Example

As an example of the savings, Rayco Construction bids a 60 mil GAF TPO roof at $42,500.00. This bid includes labor, materials, and the 20 year GAF ND (No dollar Limit) warranty. We also provided an option for the 30 year GAF ND (No dollar Limit) warranty for only $2,125 more. To add 30 year option there is no extra cost for materials or labor. The
