Spring is coming!

Believe it or not, Spring is coming. As the snow starts to melt and the weather gets warmer, roofing season kicks off. This is the perfect time to get your roof inspected.

Rayco offers free roof inspections to commercial building owners and managers, looking to make sure their roof will do its job. We will inspect the roof to see if it needs repairs, a complete re-roof, or if it is in good shape. We always have the best interest of our customers in mind, so we will always lead our customers in the right direction. Inspections allow us to get a better idea of what type of roof to install, how to install it, and determine any potential obstacles we could run into during a re-roof. After an inspection is completed, we will provide the customer with a packet; full of information and photos of our findings. This packet will also include bids for re-roofs or repairs, depending on if they are necessary.

Rayco is always looking for new ways to get ahead of the competition and become more efficient. EagleView Technologies helps us accomplish this with their aerial measurement system. With EagleView we are able to get bids out to our consumers faster and more efficiently than ever before.

How it Works

EagleView utilizes aerial images to measure the roof dimensions of each building we bid. By using EagleView reports to prepare our bids, we are able to provide extensive information on any building by utilizing EagleView high-resolution imagery to see access points, hazards and everything that is on your roof including HVAC, pipes and solar arrays. When Rayco arrives to walk your roof, the EagleView report is in hand and we are prepared for a full and thorough inspection in order to offer the best roofing solutions available.

Why We Use EagleView?

We got covered, so we can cover you

Rayco has increased its umbrella insurance policy, from $1 million, to up to $3 million in coverage. Not only does this benefit us, but it also gives building owners the comfort of knowing they are covered, if an accident occurs. Safety is a priority for us and we are always looking for new ways to help our customers. This policy allows us to do that.
