New Roof? Now What?

Has Rayco recently installed a new roof at your property? If so, it is important to make sure you take care of your roof. A new roof is not something you install and put off. You need to be proactive, rather than reactive.

Make sure you are keeping up with maintenance and inspections. Taking advantage of warranties offered by the manufacturer and Rayco, will allow you to take care of any leaks. Have a maintenance person regularly looking over the roof for any damages to stay ahead of any problems that can occur. Contact Rayco with any leaks. The sooner we hear about a leak, the faster we can get it fixed. After a storm, check the roof for damage and clear any debris, so the membrane is not punctured. A new roof is an investment, so take the time to take care of it and be proactive in doing so.

Being proactive allows you to find holes like this on the roof and take care of them before they become bigger problems.
